

To be read each morning at the race meeting.

If there is anyone on your boat today who has not signed a liability waiver, please ensure that they speak to _____ immediately.

Participation in the Leech Lake Regatta is entirely at your own risk. Any harm, loss, or damage to individuals or property may result, in whole or in part, from the negligence of LLR volunteers. Nevertheless, you agree that under no circumstances will you hold any LLR volunteer accountable.

The race course may intentionally include challenging or risky elements. Marks could be positioned in potentially hazardous locations, and advice from LLR volunteers may not be reliable. Additionally, the LLR committee boat and other regatta activities might contribute to the risks. By participating, you acknowledge these factors and accept full responsibility for your decision to race.

By participating in this regatta, you confirm your understanding of the liability release provided both in writing and verbally. If you have any uncertainty about this, do not participate in this regatta.
